Orango National Park, in the archipelago of the Bijagos Islands –declared a Biosphere Reserve by UNESCO–, is one of the wildest protected areas with the greatest, best preserved biodiversity in West Africa.

By going on the Orango Parque Hotel tours, you will get to visit other islands, enjoy the wilderness and nature, and experience authentic Bijago traditions and culture.

The Orango Parque was built in the African style, has space to accommodate 20 people and provides exclusive personal service. It is the only hotel in the Orango Islands, as well. All of the rooms are located just a few meters away from a beach of fine white sand.

Its acclaimed gourmet cuisine is prepared using traditional dishes in a wonderful balance with the most select international cuisine.

It is a privileged destination where you will come in close contact with amazing plants and animals in a spectacular location, making your stay an unforgettable experience and adventure.

The hotel forms part of a non-profit eco-tourism solidarity project. With your visit to the Orango Parque Hotel, you will be contributing to the improvement of the Bijago people's living conditions.
